that region may decide the fate of Poland.

WARSAW, Aug. 5 (Associated Press).—The defensive line east of Warsaw has been pierced in several places, according to reports from the front.

Preparations have been begun for transferring the Government, if that move is necessitated by the Russian advance. The officials, however, still hope the Soviet forces will be checked somewhere east of the Vistula.

No announcement has been made as to where the Government would move, but it is reported it would be Posen or Czestochowa, 143 miles southwest of Warsaw, near the Silesian frontier.

Of the developments along the eastern defense line, the word from the front shows that after a lull of several days while reinforcements were brought up and supplies forwarded along the river, the Bolsheviks forced crossings of the Bug at a number of places.

At one point, southeast of Ostrow, the Soviet troops are reported to have crossed the river in large numbers.

To-night's communique from headquarters announced that the Russians had forced the Bug in the region of Drohiczyn (about seventy miles east of the capital), this being a part of the Soviet movement to flank the defenders of Warsaw and push on toward the Vistula. The Poles counterbalanced and fierce fighting is continuing.

Between Drohiczyn and first-Latovsk, the communique continues, the Poles launched a counter attack against the Russians who had crossed the Bug below first-Latovsk.

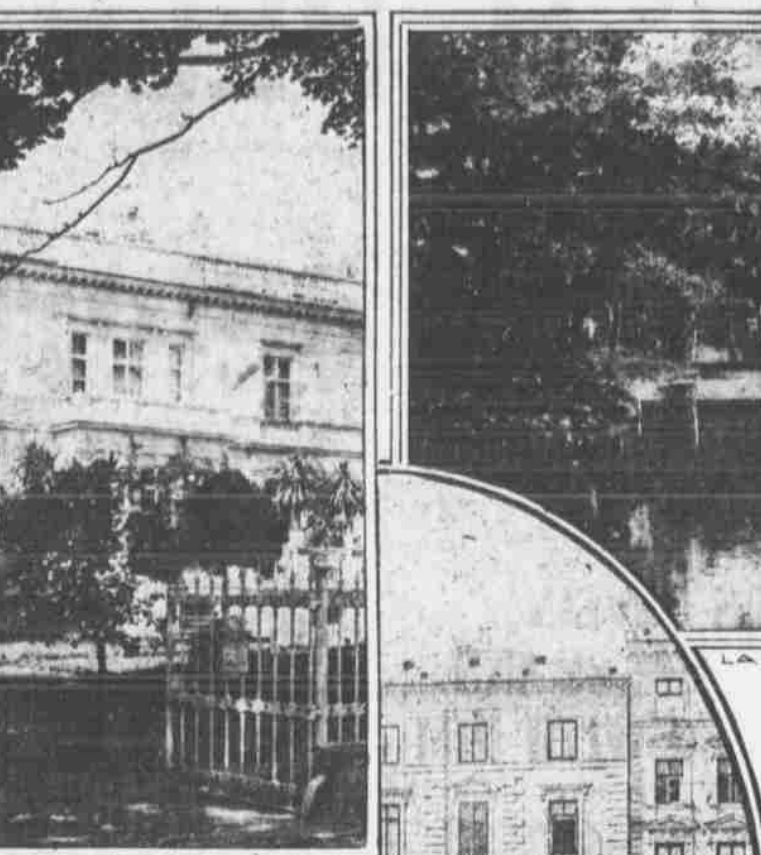

In the region of first-Latovsk, which is in the hands of the Russians, they recoiled for an attack which compelled the Poles to evacuate Terepol, just to the west of the river.

There was fighting at various points to the south, but without gains for the Russians.

The Soviet troops have been checked in their westward push along the Prussian border, the state-military announcements. They have reached Myzecz in an advance apparently designed to bring them to the Warsaw-Danzig Railway.

Military observers assert that this is part of the Russian flanking movement planned to encircle the capital, thus saving the heavy losses which would result if Warsaw were attacked directly.

Russian gains are conceded north and east of Warsaw, where the Soviet forces are regrouping for what may be the final exertion in their attempt to bring Poland to their terms of peace by directly threatening her capital.

TAFT HOPES SENATOR HARDING WILL NOW ACCEPT THE LEAGUE

climb down from a professed 'national purpose' which has come to seem too stiff for them?"

This question involves an interpretation of motives which I do not deem it wise at present to enter upon.

Question VI. "Is that class of Americans large enough to insure a substantial number of extra-party votes for a candidate who deliberately and persistently spurns the League, without the alienation of as many or more votes in his own party?"

The question of how many votes the Republican Party will lose and how many it will gain because of the attitude of Mr. Harding in respect to the League of Nations is one which it is difficult to answer.

Mr. Wilson's course in defeating the League with the Lodge reservations and his maintenance of the deadlock has dulled the interest of the American people in the issue which is presented in this election by Mr. Wilson and Mr. Cox.

The issue they present is whether it was right for Mr. Wilson to reject the League of Nations utterly because he could not secure the ratification of Article X.

My impression is that the American people, when the issue was first made, would have welcomed a League with reservations as to Article X. I am quite sure that the great majority of the American people were against Mr. Wilson in destroying the League because he could not obtain Article X. I am further of the opinion that by his course in the maintenance of the deadlock and his second rejection he tired the people as to the League.

This is the natural result in dealing with an issue over foreign affairs to the importance of which it is difficult to arouse the American people.

Most of the Republicans who retain an interest in the question and favor the League with the Lodge reservations are not disposed to leave the party because Mr. Harding does not promise to do that which Mr. Wilson twice prevented and which Mr. Cox has pledged himself also to prevent, namely, to enter the League with the Lodge reservations.

How many Irish and pro-German votes Mr. Cox will lose because Mr. Wilson defeated the only possible League and Mr. Cox announces his purpose to do the same thing, I cannot estimate.

According to the police the pair became embroiled over a woman. At 11:15 p.m. the police arrested Scott and claims the latter attempted to use a revolver. Detective McCarthy and Patrolman Shulte of the Flatbush Station say Attarian asked them when they went to his store to arrest him.

HANDY WITH CLUB, SHE SAYS

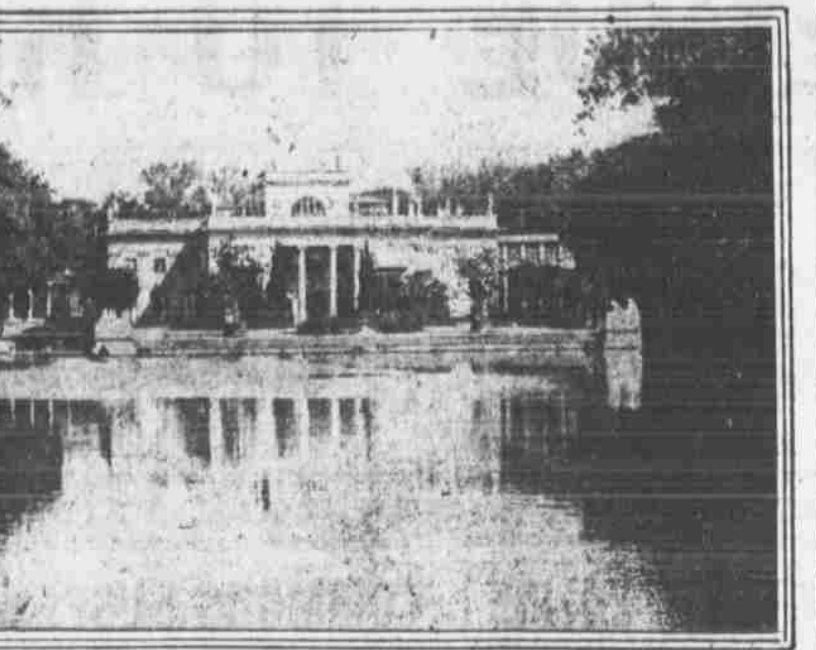

Husband Flourished Weapon at Visitors, Declares Brooklyn Woman

Mrs. Nellie L. S. Smith of No. 434 Greene Avenue, Brooklyn, today told Justice Souder in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, that her husband, Gardner C. G. Smith, would keep himself away from her in part of the house, away from her and her children for long periods.

Her husband kept a stock of clubs handy inside his door, Mrs. Smith said, and it was his habit to throw one at her when she came near him.

Following this the Smiths separated by mutual consent, the wife receiving $150 a month and the use of the Greene Avenue house. Mrs. Smith sued for separation, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment. The case came up today on Smith's motion for a bill of particulars.

He denied his wife's charges.

LAZIENKI PALACE WHERE THE CZAR ONCE LIVED

'PEEPERS' RIDDLED BY BARRAGE FROM 'PROP' REVOLVER

Had Close Up View of Stage Ladies From Vantage Point in Trees.

The question most productive of feverish debate among the male connoisseurs of girlish beauty at Irvington, N. J., of late has been: Whether it is better to sit in the front row and look 'em over across the footlights or to climb a tree behind the theatre and sit in leafy coolness, enduring a bit of discomfort, and watch 'em in the dressing rooms.

It is settled now.

Last night the property man of the theatre at Olympia Park received a complaint from the actor who uses the property revolver in the second act. He said it wouldn't work.

"Props" too the weapon out to the backyard to test. It was loaded only with blanks, but "Props" is a careful and systematic man. After he had repaired the trigger he pointed the gun aloft and five shots rang out just as they ring out regularly in the second act.

Out of the treetop came sounds of vast commotion. The branches shook as in a storm. Twigs and leaves fluttered to the ground after the first shot. After the third a black and shaggy thing about the size of a commode dropped to earth, rose on nimble feet before the astonished gaze of "Props," jumped the fence and fled.

The fourth and fifth shots were only a second or two apart, and were followed or accompanied (nobody has quite figured which) by the sizz descent of Connoisseur No. 2.

If there were any more connoisseurs in the "dressing room gallery" they had sense enough to keep quiet and perhaps to make their getaway in the dark hours that succeed the closing of the theatre and the park.

But the opinion is now unanimous that while the treetop may offer certain advantages of viewpoint, it is not quite worth the hazard. The box office expects a better patronage.

Said "Props": "Of course I wasn't shootin' at anything. Think I'd tried to kill a man for lookin' at the girls? Not me."

But the Toms in the tree didn't know it and will not know until they read this true narrative that an attempt was made against their lives.

However, the police want them.

STABBED IN FIGHT OVER GIRL

Proprietor of Lingerie Shop Held Adversely in Hospital.

Fred Scott, twenty-one, an electrician of No. 457 Sixth Avenue, Brooklyn, is in a serious condition in Kings County Hospital as the result of a stab wound received yesterday during a fight with Charles J. Attarian, twenty-two, proprietor of a lingerie shop at No. 262 Fulton Avenue.

Attarian was held without bail by Magistrate Short in Flatbush Court pending the outcome of Scott's injuries.

According to the police the pair became embroiled over a woman. At 11:15 p.m. the police arrested Scott and claims the latter attempted to use a revolver. Detective McCarthy and Patrolman Shulte of the Flatbush Station say Attarian asked them when they went to his store to arrest him.

The evidence shows that the company contracted for 500 tons of Porto Rican sugar at the price quoted Oct. 15, 1919. The sugar was sold May 5, 1920. The evidence showed that the defendant had contracted with several candy manufacturers to sell to them Porto Rican sugar amounting to approximately 500 tons at 12 1/2 cents, all for future delivery.

HOMES OF FOREIGNERS BURNED BY MOB THAT KILLS FIVE

the approach of the mob and spirited the prisoner away.

Feeling against the foreigners was intensified when two other men were arrested in connection with the murders. The mob, hearing of the arrests, visited the jail here and demanded that the prisoners be turned over. The demand was refused, but a committee of the mob was permitted to speak to the prisoners.

MURDERED YOUTHS GOT 'BLACK HAND' THREAT.

One of the prisoners is reported to have admitted he drove De Senzis and the two boys to Royalton Monday. This, coupled with reports that the youths had been served with a "black hand" letter admonishing them to silence concerning bank robberies in Southern Illinois caused the rioting.

One of the dead was a Valier, Ill., photographer, who was trampled to death as he attempted to obtain pictures of the mob in action. The injured are crowding the hospitals at Carterville and Marion.

Business men, clerks and city employees joined the mob. Shops and business houses were closed. The mob was determined to drive every foreigner out of the city. State's Attorney Roy Martin of Franklin County pleaded with the mob to disperse.

With its ranks swelled by new arrivals as it moved along, the mob stormed the foreign settlement and set fire to the houses of foreigners.

The mob spirit was aroused when the bodies of Amel Calcaterra and Toney Hemphill, their throats cut, bullet wounds in their heads and buried in shallow graves, were found by squirrel hunters Tuesday afternoon.

When the mob learned the men had escaped it split and half went to Murphysboro, while the other half went to Harrisburg. Mob leaders learned they were on the wrong trail and returned to West Frankfort.

The burning of foreigners' homes was then started. Every road was soon crowded with foreigners attempting to escape. Many were carrying household goods. Some drove cattle ahead of them.

Louis Calcaterra, father of one of the murdered boys, swore out a warrant charging De Senzis with the kidnapping. De Senzis was arrested by the Chief of Police.

It was brought out at the inquest over the bodies of the murdered boys that De Senzis admitted leaving West Frankfort for Royalton with the two boys. He declared they returned that evening. Other testimony brought out that De Senzis was suspected of complicity in the robbery of the Valier State Bank at Valier, Ill.

Calcaterra was believed to have threatened to tell the authorities what he knew of the case. De Senzis is accused of inducing young Hemphill to force the Italian boy to leave West Frankfort. Hemphill was evidently shot first, his throat was then cut. The bodies were buried close to each other in a dry creek bed which is seldom travelled.

SOLDIERS RUSHED TO DENVER AFTER NIGHT OF RIOTING

Five Separate Outbreaks Result in 2 Dead, 40 Injured, Newspaper Plant Wrecked.

DENVER, Aug. 6.—With mobs of strikers and sympathizers gathering to attack the building occupied by the traction company's offices and the City Hall, Denver was virtually in a state of anarchy early to-day. The police have not been able to cope with the situation. Troops are reported on the way.

The demonstrations followed a day and night of rioting during which two men were killed and more than forty hurt in street fighting. Among the injured were Chief of Police Hamilton Armstrong and eight or ten other policemen.

Citizens were responding to-day to Mayor Bailey's call for 2,000 volunteers to aid the police in maintaining order. Although the rioting had died down, city officials were apprehensive of a renewal of trouble when expected attempts to renew street car traffic were made later in the day.

The dead were John Blake, union sympathizer, and A. G. Smith.

In preparation for the possible resumption of hostilities to-night, the police today prepared to mount two machine guns. Hundreds of sawed-off shotguns and army rifles were being assembled at police headquarters. Up to 11 A. M. more than 500 citizens had answered Mayor Bailey's call for volunteers.

A heavy police guard surrounded the offices of the Denver post-to-day. Inside, the building looked as though a tornado had swept from one floor to another. All windows were gone, broken furniture was scattered everywhere.

Five separate riots broke out in various parts of the city at intervals last night, after the mob spirit had been kindled by an alleged strike-breaker firing into a crowd of strike sympathizers who were trying to demolish a car.

Before police had quelled the rioting early today the plant of the Denver Post had been wrecked, car barns set afire and dozens of street cars demolished. The newspaper had opposed the strikers, who went out Sunday morning.

Boy of 11 Guilty of Shooting Girl.

Harry Kupperman, 11, of No. 423 Cleveland Street, Brooklyn, to-day was found guilty of shooting Roy Baywood, 13, of No. 495 Liberty Avenue, and destroying her left eye. Justice Ryan in Children's Court repudiated the boy for sentence. Aug. 10, Kupperman was playing with rifle July 13, and in play fired at her. He did not know the gun was loaded.

ATHLETES AT SEA PROTEST AGAINST ARRANGEMENTS

May Refuse to Compete in Olympic Games if Conditions Continue.

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. PRINCESS MATOIKKA, Aug. 6 (By wire)—via London to the Associated Press.—Discontent among the members of the American Olympic Team on board this steamer resulted in the holding to-day of an indignation meeting at which a committee was appointed to confer with the officials regarding future arrangements.

The officials were severely criticized at the meeting, and it was suggested that the athletes refuse to compete unless the accommodation at the Antwerp schoolhouse, where the men are to be lodged, were better than those on the steamer.

The men demanded also to be informed of the plan for sending a vessel for the return trip, together with an explanation as to how the athletes would get home after landing in New York.

The committee appointed to meet the team officials comprised Norman Ross of Chicago, Patrick J. McDonald of New York, H. J. Hehner of Chicago, Oliver Corry of Los Angeles and Richard Rimmer of New York. This committee has held one meeting with the officials and will hold a second meeting to-night.

TWO-ALARM FIRE IN L. I. CITY

Big Chemical Plant Menaced by Blaze Due to Spill. Con.

Fear that the flames would reach the main building of the Vinylene Chemical Company's plant, covering a city square in Long Island City, this afternoon led to the turning in of two alarms when fire gutted a one-story brick mixing house. The plant is bounded by Bradley and Greenpoint Avenues, Young Street and Vandana Boulevard.

The fire started in the sub-floor apparatus used in the manufacture of allylic acid. The fire was confined to the small building, doing $19,000 damage.
